

GLAMOUR GLASS RIDGED ANAL DILDO

This anal dildo is made of Borosilicate glass which is very strong, non-porous, hygienic and safe for the body. The dildo has soap bubble colours which gives it a glamorous look. The clever design features two usable ends. One end with a conical shape and a tapered tip for easy insertion. The other end has ridges forming 5 beads that increase in size.

Glass is great for temperature play. Store the dildo in the fridge or put it in hot water before use and enjoy the tingling cold or exciting warm sensations. The glass material can be cleaned with soapy water, you don't need boiling water but it's very well possible if you prefer this. Don't worry about the colours of the toy, they won't wear off because they are not an external layer on the glass, but baked into the material, so they are IN the glass.

FEATURES

- Glass dildo for anal use
- Double ended: conical and beaded
- Perfect for temperature play
- Made of borosilicate glass, body safe and hygienic

Borosilicate glass is also called Hard Glass. It is made of silica and boron trioxide and much more resistant to thermal shock than common glass. Not only is borosilicate glass stronger, it is lighter than common glass too. This makes it very suitable for lots of products.
